Life is but a game! There are many ways in which man chooses to play this game called life. Whatever methods or means man employs in this game, to be declared a winner constitutes putting pieces together. It is somewhat like matching all the colors on the Rubix Cube, matching dominoes, or placing each piece of a puzzle together to make the "overall picture." In order to see the finished product or the final result, one must build from one step to another and then combine those steps to make that single unit — that finished product — that accomplished goal — LIFE!

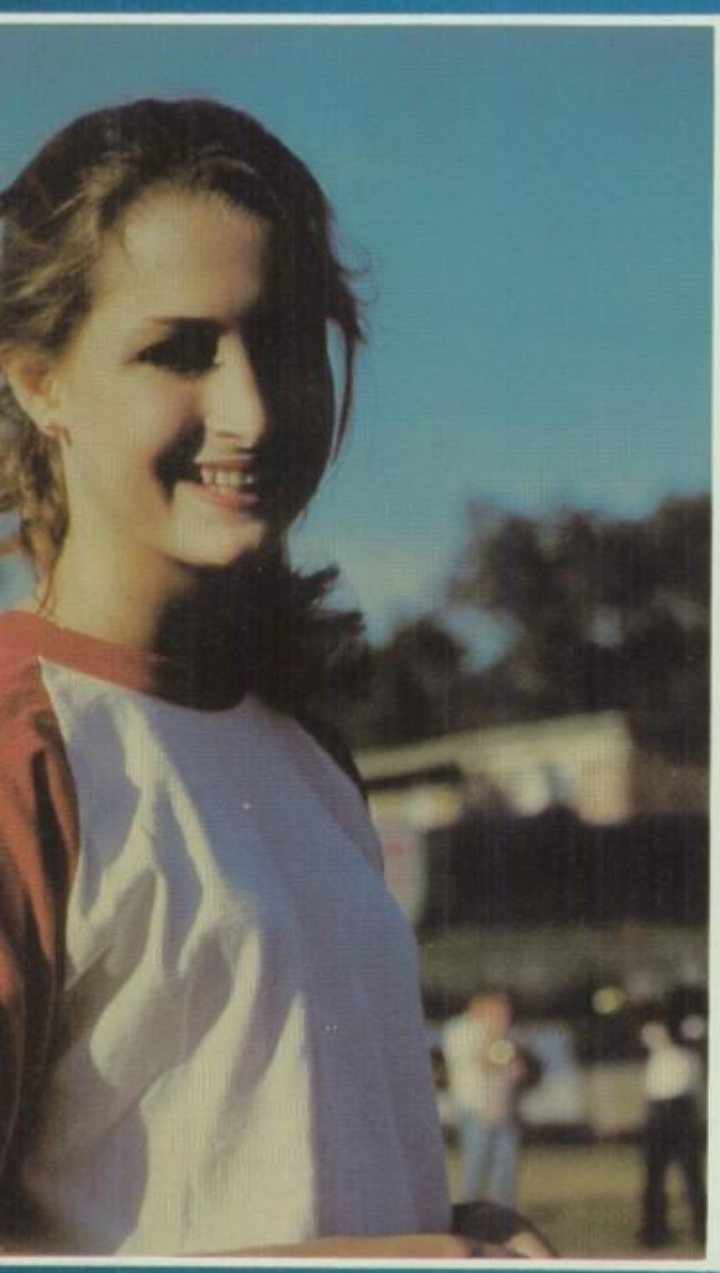
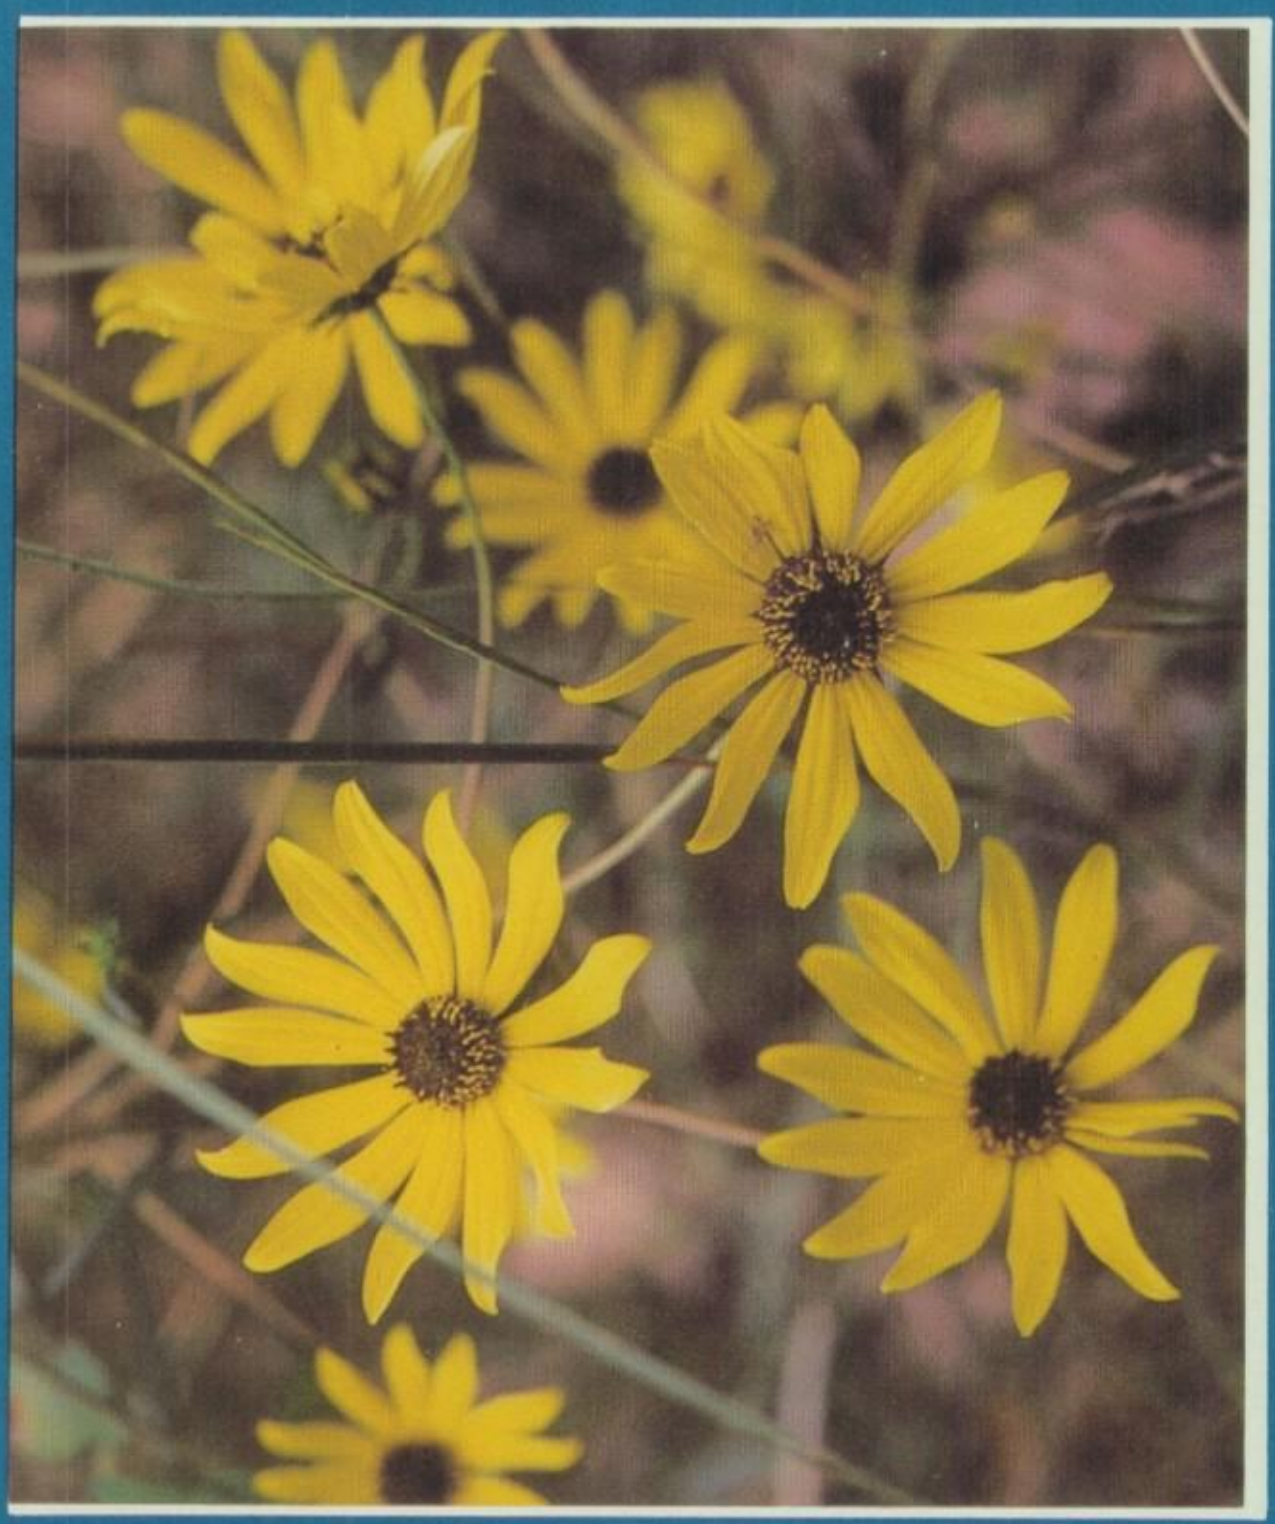
Putting It All Together





In today's society of constant conformi- where newer is better and moral stan- rds change with fashions, our travel rough the maze of life is made difficult unforseen obstacles which arise from y to day. Our goal in life is to win the me without restraining othe from their ance to reach the finish line. Strategies ust be planned and perfected. Varia- ns of these strategies must be iginated in order to meet each of life's er-changing situations with a fresh at- ude and a brave smile.

Winning the game is not as important as how man plays, for there are no losers in the "Game of Life" except those who choose not to play. As we put together life's puzzle, it sometimes seems there is a missing piece. Often, we find that life doesn't always fit the pattern we wish. But as we further our education each year in high school and come in contact with new ideas, new challenges, and different viewpoints, we gradually begin to see the light. The possibilities of tomorrow come into focus, and we find that missing piece to that often perplexing puzzle called life.

The playing pieces of life's game include all those with whom we come in contact. Our family, church, teachers, and friends all play a part in helping us determine what steps we will take in setting and achieving our goals. Under their influence we gain experience and learn the depth of the stamina necessary to survive in this hectic world. We learn of our flaws as well as our strengths, and we learn to cope with each. Through the guidance of authorities and peers, we realize our potential, and tomorrow becomes a day to which we can look forward.

Lee High is looking toward the retirement of Mrs. Elizabeth Moody Smith with mixed emotions. The students are of course happy that she has come to that point at which she may retire and enjoy her five sons and three grandchildren more. We are, however, sorry to lose her faithful service to Lee High.

Mrs. Smith received her B.A. degree at Skidmore College in New York. She went on to earn her B.S. degree in library science at Simmons College in Boston. Since 1962, she has attended several other universities including Mississippi University for Women, Mississippi State University, and the University of Alabama.

Mrs. Smith's teaching career includes twenty one years of dedication to the Columbus Public Schools. She was employed for two years as a secretary at Lee High, two years as the Librarian at Joe Cook, and she has been the audio-visual librarian here at Lee High since 1965.

Mrs. Smith, we are truly grateful to you for the time you have given us so willingly. Without your service to Lee High, our education up to this point would have been rather monotonous and greatly lacking. We wish you the best of everything as you begin your life after retirement.

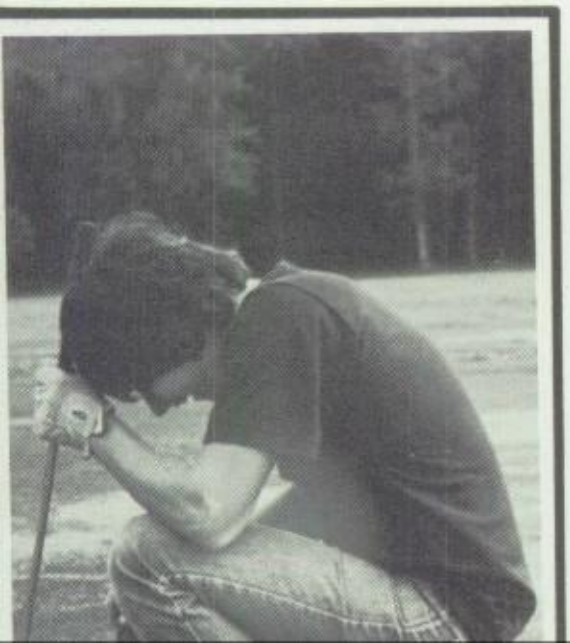
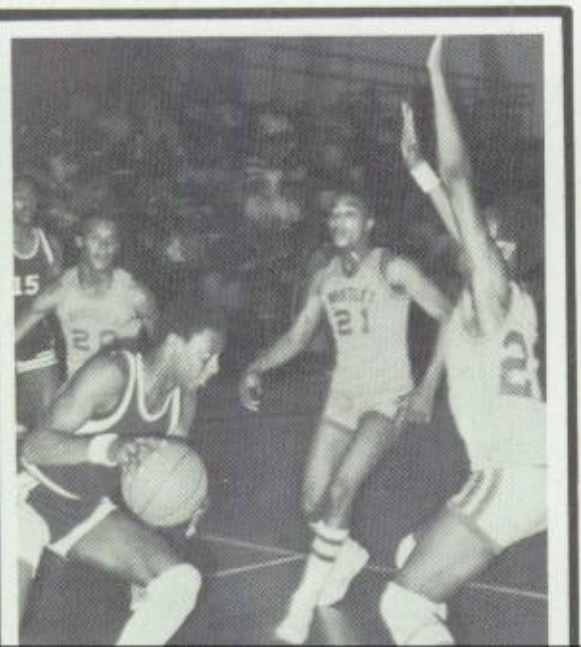
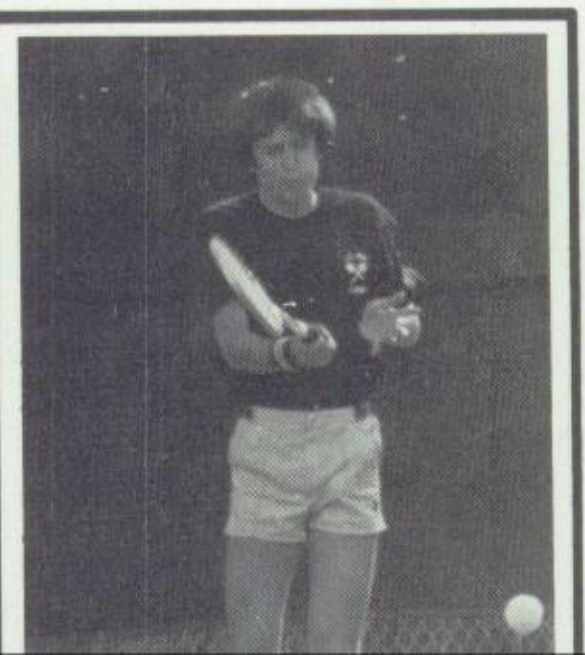
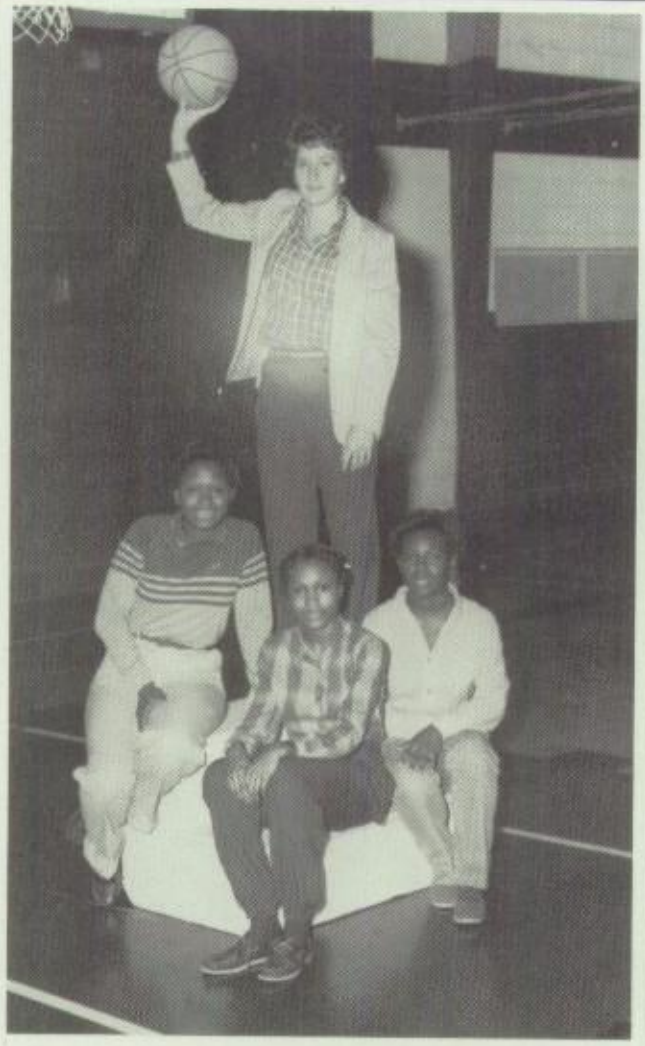
In the fall of 1981, the Generals returned to their legacy of victory as a seven and four record was achieved on the gridiron finishing second in the district. After the regular season had been completed, the Generals returned for the second time in two years to the prestigious Red Carpet Bowl where Frankie Turner again won the most valuable defensive player award. Following in these same footsteps on the basketball court with a record of seventeen wins and ten losses, was the practice, finesse, and discipline of the basketball team. Despite the fact that this year was considered to be a year of rebuilding, the stamina and drive instilled in these dedicated athletes enabled them to sustain a 63 percent winning record finishing third in the district. 1982 arrived and the baseball team received its top seed in preseason predictions. The Generals started the season showing the wrath of experience winning several tournaments, and their continued dominance assured them a successful season. Several seniors were recognized by major colleges in the Southeast for their ability and leadership. The golf team too, enjoyed a successful season having competed in seven tournaments. Of the four who competed in district competition, all qualified for the state tournament! Track won the overall district title with the girls winning the district and several reserved their places in the State Track Meet. The tennis team, although failing to live up to early expectations, still maintained a fruitful season as the Generals finished 8-5 with several members qualifying for the state tourney. Swimming had another banner year winning overall state championship one more time, placing several on the all-state team. The inspiration shown by previous athletes deepened the desire to succeed in the hearts of the competitors of 1982, and the same desire is handed down to athletes of '83, thus the legacy maintains a constant cycle.









Coach Tammy Butler and managers Jean Prince, Debra Williams and Lynn Turner.

DECA

Part-time Cooperative Education is essentially a cooperative effort whereby business and industry, on the one hand, and the senior high school, on the other, cooperate in the actual training for employment of certain high school boys and girls. Before a student is admitted to the program, he or she must have, with the aid of the coordinator, if necessary, (1) selected a specific occupation or job in which training is desired, and (2) secured part-time employment in this selected occupation as the laboratory part of the course. The course will require that each student attend the Part-time Cooperative Class one period each day and devote at least 15 hours per week during school days to actual employment on the part-time job. Thus the program will require a minimum of five hours class work and fifteen or more hours of employment, or a total of 20-25 hours per week, for which two high school units per year are earned for satisfactory performance.

Robert Reed learns about the world of fashion by working at Ruth's.

GRADUATION

RAIN, RAIN, GO AWAY!!! This statement was being shouted by two hundred and twenty seven graduating seniors on graduation day. Since the rain did not take heed and go away, plans were changed from holding the graduation exercises on the William B. Saunders field to the Lee High Gym. At the long awaited hour of eight o'clock, hundreds of parents and family friends poured into the hot and crowded gym to witness Lee High's sixty-fourth graduating class. Robert Weaver, class salutatorian, greeted the many guests as Nancy Jones, Valedictorian left her class with a most inspirational speech. With the help of Mr. John East, school board member, Mr. Charles D. Newell presented the graduates their diplomas and a long awaited dream had become a reality.

Being editors of the Maroon and White Annual Staff has been a unique and challenging experience. Members have worked hard this year in helping to achieve the ultimate goal of unity that the staff has striven for in the book. To them we owe our deepest thanks.

Many of our fondest memories came from working hard together as editors to construct a successfu annual. We have made new friends and have learned how to accept and deal with responsibility. We have put forth our best efforts in order to give the student body the annual it deserves, and we hope those efforts have proven worthwhile.
